

MyHighSchoolToday

“The Modern Version of the School Newspaper”

MyHighSchoolToday is a video and photo-driven highlight website built specifically for high schools, intended to be a creative outlet for student organizations to showcase all of the school’s students and programs. The platform not only brings the education system up-to-speed in technology initiatives, but also provides students an education tool to aid in garnering POSITIVE exposure for their high school.

Opportunities with MyHighSchoolToday

Engage Your Student Body– MyHighSchoolToday provides a viable way for high schools to re-engage their students, parents, alumni, and community through a positive medium, recreating excitement in education.

Education Tool for Your School - With the entire platform being built to be run entirely by the school’s student networks, MyHighSchoolToday educates students and provides them a real world outlet to apply learned skills in a dynamic environment.

Empower Students To Promote Positive Exposure - High school students are empowered to positively promote their high school and themselves to prospective students, parents, alumni, and the community in a dynamic way.

Encourage the Entire Student Population – MyHighSchoolToday provides a much needed tool to highlight each and every program. From Math League to Chess Club, and Marching Band to Football every student has the opportunity to showcase their accomplishments.

Make A Difference. Get Started Today!

Start showcasing your high school and students in the modern, technology-savvy world with MyHighSchoolToday!

Contact MyFanCountry to learn more and discuss implementation into your organization!

Email info@myfancountry.com for details!

